

I understand this decision is being made without much public exposure. This should be opened to more public discussion. More competition and less consolidation is needed in the media.